

Federal Government Job Opportunities

Want a challenging job where you can utilize your MPPA and make a difference? Consider working for an organization that impacts the lives of every American - the federal government. More than a 550,000 federal employees, one-third of the entire full-time permanent workforce, are eligible to retire in the next five years. That means the opportunities for you are endless! Especially for those who want to work outside of Washington DC since most federal jobs are in the 50 states.

Find out about job opportunities in the federal government
<http://www.makingthedifference.org/federaljobs/hotjobs.shtml>.

On the website, created by the Partnership for Public Service, you'll find more information about the variety of exciting opportunities, benefits of federal service, and tips for finding and applying for a federal job. Plus, you'll see how you can make a difference every day.

Message provided by The National Associations of Schools of Public Affairs & Administration (NASPAA) and its member schools on behalf of The Partnership for Public Service (PPS)